Change (chānj), v.l.a. To cause to be different; alter. b. To give a completely form or appearance to; transform. 2. To give and receive reciprocally; interchange.

That's how Webster defines change. We may devise our own definition, but however they may differ, one thing remains the same: change is constant. It is an unavoidable factor that grips everyone of us, molding us into temporary patterns suitable for the time being, but bound to be altered sometime in the future.

During the past fifty years, BHS has seen as much change as has been possible in that time period. It's thousands of graduates have respectively gone through American involvement in three different wars as well as numerous hairstyles, musical preferences and countless fads such as string pearls, pet rocks and hula hoops. Remembered are swings of fervent patriotism and waves of strong opposition.

For those graduates of the rigid and traditional 1938, the black jackets and bobby-socks of the teenagers of the 1950's must have seemed outrageous, not to mention the long-haired Beatlemaniacs of the 1960's, the "hippies" and "acid-rockers" of the '70's, and then our generation.

But change is not always involuntary or uncontrollable; it can be caused by pressure, desire, and popular demand-ideals well-known to the children of the 1960's and the early 1970's. Looking around them they saw a stultifying, turbulent, and authoritarian world that inhibited freedom, affecting them directly. With a senseless war raging in Southeast Asia, dishonest presidents in office, heroes like J. F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King, Jr. assassinated within the same decade, and protestors massacred on college campuses, a wave of confusion and anger arose. Men grew their long hair in defiance as women wore blue jeans instead of skirts, and burned their bras. A great change had been formed and its results are still present for us to honor and enjoy, years after revolution went out of style.

We as the educated future leaders of the country, hold that same power. With a positive outlook and a desire to change for the better, we will look back on our high school years, the knowledge we gained, those whom we love and recognize our goals, purposes and accomplishments with pride because we are the leaders of our own future.

In the 50's we were saying
“I Love Lucy”
Today it's “Alf” we're after.

It is always easier to travel than to stop. As long as one travels toward a promise land, the dream is there; to stop means to face reality.

Keep in mind that the perfect journey is circular. The joy of return are the clasped hands that set it in motion.

May your promised land be eons away so that your journey's end is far beyond your vision.

Mr. Nadolny

Teacher is defined as one who educates or imparts knowledge on others. To me, a teacher is this and more. A teacher is a caring person — one who gives of him/herself unselfishly to aid students in achieving their goal. In other words, a teacher is a friend, a friend who is more often times than not unappreciated until after that student or maybe the teacher has left.

You were and still are very appreciated. You inspired me to continue on with my education and made me look at mathematics, my particular area of interest, in a different way. For that I will always remember you and cherish the memories of your class. I wish you all the success and happiness you deserve.

History was made this year as the Hawks not only compiled their best record ever, but remained undefeated for a much anticipated first place finish in the TVL, just missing the Super Bowl with a ranking of third. Coach Missler led the team to a record of 8-0-2, including a 47-0 romp over Holiston. First team all-stars included Andy Smith, Steve Bradbury, Chuck Moore, Bob Thibeault, and Dave Lanigan. TVL offensive MVP, Andy Smith, and Steve Bradbury paced the Hawks with outstanding performances on both sides of the line. Seniors were: Tri-Captains Andy Smith, Chuck Moore, and Bob Cook. Also Jason Hicklen, Bob Haynes, Mike Manor (Ekim Ronam), Dave Lanigan, Kurt Gibson, Jeff Black, Jim Amerault, Fernando Paniss, Bob Thibeault, Steve Bradbury, Chris Bisdneck, Brian Vitarisi, and Pat Klug. Once again, Congratulations!

TOURNEY BOUND AGAIN!

The Blackhawks once again qualified for the Eastern Mass. Tournament under the tutelage of Coach Lauren Crook, finishing second in the TVL. Captain Kerri Dwyer had her best year yet capturing the Tri Valley League MVP award. Dwyer, Tracy Eltzroth, and Tasha Buben were all elected to the first team all-stars. Seniors Kerri Dwyer, Kelly Blackman, Tracy Eltzroth, Joanne Berglund, and Donna Riendeau all participated in their last season for the Hawks.

The soccer team, coached by Mike Suffoletto and led by captains Bruce Connolly and Neil Bentley, kept games very close against all TVL opponents. TVL All-Star Joshua Coutu led the team in scoring while Bruce Connolly, Neil Bentley, Brian Giroux, and Tom Kozak provided the tough defense that enabled the Hawks to avoid getting blown out. Things are looking up as the Hawks more than doubled their total scoring of last year. Neil Bentley, Brian Giroux, Bruce Connolly, Ed Ingraham, Jimi Simpson, Chuck Lewis, Mike Collins, and Mike Reynolds played in their final season for Hawks.

TVL CHAMPS RETAIN TITLE!

For the second year in a row, the Hawks Field Hockey Team captured the TVL crown with a 16-1-3 record. Coach Ron Bonollo and Senior tri-captains Tammi Coady, Sarah Powers, and Tammy Kosmas, playing in their last year, paved the way to the Championship and the team's third consecutive tournament bid. The All-Star selections for the TVL first team were Tammi Coady, Sarah Powers, and Mikki Bryan. The girls are to be congratulated for yet another fine season.

Memories light the corners of my mind
Misty water color memories
Of the way we were.

Scattered pictures of the smile we left behind
Smiles we gave to one another
For the way we were.

Can it be that it was so simple then
Or has time rewritten every line?
If we had the chance to do it all again,
Tell me would we? Could we?

Memories may be beautiful and yet
What's too painful to remember
We simply choose to forget.

So it's the laughter, we will remember
Whenever we remember
The way we were
The way we were.

COMPLIMENTS OF DAWN FRASER'S FAMILY

being communicated. When our words are harsh, hostile, angry, we communicate the very opposite of those qualities. We need to hear our brothers and sisters. We need to be taught to listen to everyone who speaks of us. We need to be reminded that someone out there is trying to reach us through our partner in conversation. Truth, love and goodness are seeking us out in truth, love and goodness.

do not really listen to each other, at least not all the time. Instead of a true dialogue, we carry on two parallel monologues. I talk. My companion talks. But what we are really concentrating on is how to sound good, how to make our points strongly, how to outshine the person with whom we are talking. We need to be taught to listen to everyone who speaks of us. We need to be reminded that someone out there is trying to reach us through our partner in conversation. Truth, love and goodness are seeking us out in truth, love and goodness.

CLASS

On September 5, 1983, the class of 1988 nervously walked the hallways of B.H.S. as a diverse group of individuals. Soon however, we began to grow and mature as a unit, with the help of our advisors Mr. Vento and Mr. Dalpe. Together, they pointed us in the right direction.

As Freshmen, we elected our first set of leaders — President, Carla Charbonneau; Vice-President, Lise Pellitier; Secretary, Heather Haynes; and treasurer, Joanne Berglund.

We continued the traditional Crafts Fair/Flea Market which involved many school and community groups. We also started a new fundraising tradition . . . a candy cane sale during the Christmas season. As a class, we began to participate in "High School" events such as Spirit Week and our one and only Field Day. We had a great response from our class.

Sophomore year marked the halfway point of our High School career. Our class leaders changed slightly. We kept our President, Carla Charbonneau; Vice-President, Lise Pellitier; and Treasurer, Joanne Berglund, but we elected a new Secretary, Tammi Coady. During November of that year, a great accomplishment was shared with everyone — the Division II Girls' Field Hockey State Championship was won by Bellingham.

Early in the year, we organized a Ring Dance Committee, led by chairperson Dina Honour and co-chairperson Kerri Dwyer. They worked closely with Kelly Blackman, Michelle Calarese, Kris Connolly and the rest of the committee to plan a very successful Ring Dance. It was our first formal dance. Many volunteers stayed for six and a half hours to help decorate the gym. The thrill and excitement were tremendous and the theme set the tone for the evening . . . "A Night Together." Our first court was chosen: Queen Tracey Vanderwalker and her princesses Heather Haynes, Cheryl Dakai, Holly Fraser, and Kristin Steele. Our first King was Andy Smith and his princes included Chris Babiana, Neil Bentley, Chris Charron, and Tom Lydon.

The start of our junior year brought another change in our elected officers. Our new President was Kim Armstrong; Vice-President, Lise Pellitier; Secretary, Heather Haynes; and Treasurer, Joanne Berglund.

Our junior year proved to be one of firsts. Girls Varsity Field Hockey team captured its first TVL title, and Heather Haynes was crowned Homecoming Queen, the first junior to be named so.

We attended our first Christmas Party at the Bocce Club in Woonsocket and brought in the new year with much excitement.

As our treasury expanded, we held a successful Valentine's Flower Sale. Our Junior Prom was held at the Royal Plaza Hotel in Marlboro. The chosen court was: Queen — Mara Velasquez, King — Jim Amerault, and princesses Kelly Blackman, Cheryl Dakai, Debbie Mead, and Heather Todisco.

At the end of our junior year we elected the set of offices which would lead us in our senior year. They were President, Heather Haynes; Vice-President, Bruce Connolly — our only male officer —; Secretary, Tammi Coady; and Treasurer, Joanne Berglund — the only officer to be elected for four consecutive years.

We sponsored the Second Annual Faculty Breakfast the day before returning to school for our final year at BHS.

The only word to describe the year is hectic. Our last Flea Market had the largest turnout ever and our first dance was . . . well the DJ was an hour and a half late.

After a victorious Spirit Week, we ended the week by setting a school record with the largest amount of spirit links ever sold.

The Halloween Dance was a flop — mainly because seniors were watching the Varsity Football Team remain undefeated in their quest of the TVL title.

1987 brought with it a tremendous amount of success for BHS athletic teams. Our football team captured the TVL title for the first time ever and the field hockey team proved itself again with another title. The volleyball team beat Westwood to take second place in the TVL, the boys' basketball team ployed all the way to the Southeastern Division II State finals and baseball fought a tough battle to become TVL Co-champs.

Heather Haynes was elected Homecoming Queen for the second consecutive year while Lynn Bridges and Keith Hynes were named class marshals. Also, Mr. Christie was presented the teacher of the year award in the Norfolk County.

The year was coming to an end. It was already time for our last prom which boasted a perfect theme — "A Night To Remember." The court was chosen: King — Brian Giroux, Queen — Michelle Calarese and their court; Neil Bentley, Kim Armstrong, Steve Morin, Heather Haynes, Brian Vitarisi, Tammy McGilvary, Phil Vondras, and Maria Sacco.

And here it is, Class Day, our last day as BHS seniors. Tonight we will celebrate at our Senior Banquet and tomorrow we will become the fiftieth graduating class of Bellingham High School. Soon, like the classes before us we will become part of the past. We should be proud of our contributions as a class and as individuals. I hope that the memories we have created and shared as a class will always occupy a place in your heart — and help to keep the class of '88' as close to you as it is to me.

 Joe gives Heather, Mary, Tracy, Danielle and Beth his locker which he could never get into anyway.
 Joe leaves Tracy a friend so she will never have to stand by herself and feel like a geek.
 Kelly leaves Shelley breakfast . . . lunch — oh, and don't forget dinner. You need your nutrients!
 Kelly leaves Mitch all the curbs and pedestrians she hasn't hit yet.
 K.D. and D.A. leave Mrs. Dyson a northern accent and Mrs. Jacques a bunch of new arguments.
 K.D. leaves Mrs. Finley a new key to her supply closet.
 Heather leaves Kim Armstrong a cartwheel.
 Kelly leaves sis the hope of getting her license at 16 and having a car to cruise aorund in.
 EKIM leaves Ray, Riggs, and Torch another year of doubles and good luck in 88 for Hawks Football.
 L.M. leaves L.M. a fuel-injected turbo engine for her vette, so the next time she tries to pass a car at 20 she'll make it.
 Cherly leaves Paula a place to go crazy, Cereally.
 Bruce and Jamie leave Mr. Christie Joshua Christie, Christie's Fountain of physica, some drip dry clothes, and a raincoat. Control yourself!
 Bruce and Neil leave David, Josh, and Coach Suffoletto best of luck next season! "Better days are coming."
 Heather leaves her little brother Anthony good luck with the next 5 years of high school and hopes he has as much fun as she did but pass at the same time.
 EKIM leaves Mr. Christie a watch that will tell him when its time to warm up WW2 leaves WW1 and WW3 someone to spy on while driving through Medway. "That's what friends are for."

Joyce Beaulieu will become the queen belcher at the Woonsocket Plazas.

Mia Sacco will open her own designer jeans store carrying a line of her personalized skin tight jeans.

Kim Armstrong will grow up and wear green tights and fly around doing advertisements for Peter Pan Peanutbutter.

Kelly McGovern will finally get up the guts to ask A.S. on a date.

Holly Fraser will own Home National Bank and distribute free cans of hair spray with every new savings account.

Amanda Ford will be crowned Miss Kmart 1998, after doing time for stealin other people's ideas.

Alan Levesque will be a has-been before he ever was, playing in subway stations in Boston for small change.

Chris Charron will become head waiter at the world renowned Steak Pit restaurant in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Ed Ingraham will eventually realize Larry Bird isn't God.

Scott Kelly will edge out Pirmin Zurbriggen for the Gold medal at the 1992 winter Olympics, in the men's downhill skiing.

Master thief, Matthew Clark, after cleaning out the Louvre, will finally be apprehended by his long time nemesis, detective Don Christie.

Dan Kraus wins the wimbledon tennis tournament . . . and then wakes up!

Donna Degan and Mark Olbrys will get married, and eventually die by swatting each other with 5, 10, and 20 dollar bills.

Dawn Strenck will become the next Julia Childs, except for the fact that she burns everything in foods.

Sarah Powers will be the next up and rising Business Administrator, and the only one to carry a field hockey stick in her briefcase.

Brian Giroux, a navy military officer, will become missing in action and will be found years later in Bellingham, teaching physics class — being addressed as the "Nutty Professor."

Cheryl Delvecchio will join the Mafia and become known as Big Al, "The Godmother."

Jeff Black will become a psychologist and be an expert on the Id, Ego, and Superego.

Debbie Paul will become the Cru'es' personal manager.

Gina Destafani will become Mrs. Jim McMahon and have "9" baby bears.

Bruce Connolly will become the next Mr. Rogers.

John Wingle will become a Vetrinarian who will specialize in big black snakes!

Kristen Parenteau will become a famous Ecologist who specializes in chimpanzee behavior.

Carie Girouard will become a famous Cone Head Sundae maker at Friendly's restaurant.

Joanne Berglund and Bruce Connolly will get married and have adjoining dorms at Bridgewater.

Shelley Haley will become a ceramacist in her own day-care center.

Kelley Fagnant will become head of the Mounties and Merry Dudley Dorights.

Bonnie McCrudden will become a merry maid, who cleans the same house 10 times a day.

Barbara Dakai will become Dorothy and go back to Oz.

Josh Christie will claim to be Mr. Christie's long lost son.

Charlene Kell will become a Famous photographer for Blueboy Magazine.

Tracy Eltzroth will become the new lead singer of the rock group "Heart."

Dawn Fraser will become Miss Universe.

Jimi Simpson will finally realize that the only funny thing about him is his hair.

Kris Connolly will finally marry long-time love Jay Aston and have lots of magenta-haired children.

Kelly Blackman will meet up with a tall, dark and handsome man at Almacs, and have a secret affair with him

WE'VE HAD THE TIME OF OUR LIFE!

GRADUATION

I GO ON

I. Thinking back it seems
I'd never stopped to look around.
Before I knew tomorrow came,
then flowed into a massive sea of yesterdays.

Thinking back to yesterday
all those times we took for granted,
I guess I never thought it would be so hard to say good-bye.

And even though I know it's not forever,
there will always be a part of you with me.
Never close, but not so very far from my heart.

CHORUS: I go on again.
Somehow tomorrow has come too soon
I don't know just when,
but I know I'll go on.

II. Sometimes looking for tomorrows, faded shades of blue and grey,
brings you back into the day
When the world seemed so much smaller.

Looking back it seems
It took so long to get this far.
So short the time it took to learn just when these memories slip away.

And even though I know it's not forever,
There will always be a part of you with me.
Never close, but not so very far from my heart.

BRIAN GRIOUX

We the 50th graduating class of Bellingham High School, have worked diligently to make our class special. None of our successes, however, could have been achieved if it were not for the many friendships we have established over the years.

AMICO, AMI, AMICUS, FRIEND. These terms regardless of the language stand for friendship, something we all need and strive for in our complex lives.

There are many influences on our personalities during the process of maturation. Forming relationships with others is a very important part of this process.

All close friendships are composed of several necessary ingredients. The catalyst most responsible for beginning a relationship is common interests. This is because friends enjoy time spent participating in various activities together.

Trust is also important. We all need to confide in one another and believe in the honest opinions of our peers.

Support is vital to every relationship, and it exists in many forms: The teacher who stays after school to explain the newest formula. The coach who pats you on the back and says "nice play." Or just the person who is there to comfort you when you need it most.

I've had many friends, in the form of teachers, advisors, coaches and of course, other students, each providing the elements essential for my development.

I am sure there are many of you that have developed similar, special relationships that have made our sometimes uphill climb a little bit easier.

I would like to thank all the people who have made helped me grow and mature during my high school years. There are too many to name individually, but you know who you are. The two people I'd like to thank the most, though are my two parents, who have encouraged me to enjoy my educational experience and accept the challenges that go with it.

I'll leave you with this thought.

John Lyly once wrote: "A friend in prosperity is a pleasure, a solace in adversity, in grief a comfort, in joy a merry companion; at all times, another I."

To me this captures the true meaning of a friend; and also describes my fellow classmates.

MARANGELI VELAZQUEZ

When I came to Bellingham High School in the eighth grade, I felt awkward, different, almost like I didn't belong. I suppose that feeling is shared by everyone at some point in his life. But mine went beyond the typical anxieties of an adolescent. Having experienced another culture, I felt like a foreigner in my new environment. Moreover, I had no friends — no one with whom I could really talk, who could really understand my alienation.

In time, I learned to focus on my work, to turn my anxieties into academic dedication. It became a positive experience, for, what had begun as a way of coping, gradually developed into a belief in my own worth. Slowly, the feeling of alienation had dissipated. It had been replaced by a sense of academic pride.

Now, as I look back, I realize how much growth takes place within us. We start out lonely and afraid, but eventually, we learn to cope. And, in the process, we change and adapt to new situations and encounters. For me, adapting meant first trying to do the very best that I could in school. For others, it can represent something else, maybe athletics, music, or art. It is part of becoming, of growing.

As I stand here, I know that I will have to face many more challenges in the future. But I know that I am not alone in the process, that each and every single one of us will have to overcome new obstacles in life. We are alone, yet we are together. Indeed, as John Donne once expressed, "No man is an island entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main." May we all have the courage and the perseverance to face what lies ahead.

What goes around comes around —

We built atomic and nuclear bombs in the 40's and 50's.

We're closing nuclear plants in the eighties.

Back in '44 and '45 boys deserted the classroom to wave Old Glory.

They fought for peace and security for all nations
Then, in the sixties they burned their bras and their flags.

In the seventies young men headed out for Canada.

Avoiding the draft call — deserting their country.

But the "in" thing to wear was an army fatigue.

The shoulder pads and peplum jackets migrated from

The fifties to the eighties — along with the DA and crew cut
What goes around — comes around.

People, young and old, really can make a change in the world — be it a political, social or economic change.
It happened in the 40's with a surge of patriotism —

It happened in the 50's with a political clean up —
It happened in the 60's with a push for civil rights —
It happened in the 70's with the "resignation of Nixon" —

It happened in the 80's with the "Wall" honoring Vietnam Vets.
